From Fear to Followers: Finding Confidence Through Content Creation	In a world where everyone wants to be a content creator, fear often becomes the biggest barrier. This talk explores how fear can be transformed into a strength through consistency, storytelling, and intentional creation, showing how embracing vulnerability can lead to confidence, connection, and meaningful success.

5.	Samantha Santosh	Internal speaker		The Unconquerable Whys	My talk, The Unconquerable Whys, opens with the final seconds of one of my basketball games. It explores how unanswered “whys” create inner conflict and push us toward purpose. Most people discover purpose later in life, but a guide, using reflective questions, helps uncover it earlier, grounds our values, and guides every decision we make. I share a practical purpose and conclude by drawing parallels between my journey as an athlete and the journey of life.
6.	Sumeet Ramesh	Internal speaker		Who decides you?	In a world driven by trends, algorithms, and crowd opinion, individuality quietly becomes risky. This talk explores how validation shapes what we like, believe, and share—and why navigating today's new frontier isn't about being louder, but about trusting your inner compass enough to stay different when blending in feels easier.

7.	Salomi Thomas	Internal speaker		A new language for Monday morning	This talk explores how following your inner fire doesn't guarantee immediate success, but changes how we experience work. Through moments of curiosity, failure, and even humiliation, passion slowly transforms work from something we dread into something we choose until "I have work tomorrow" is said with purpose, not fear.

8.	Heili	Internal speaker		The Pause Before the Path	The talk explores the idea of pausing and looking inwards before navigating a new frontier. It reflects on the inner compass not only being a guide, but also a mirror which forces us to return to our authentic self before choosing direction or progress, making self-awareness, in itself, a new frontier.
9.	Maiza	Internal speaker		When the Map Ends, the Compass Begins	In this TEDx talk, Maiza reflects on a 55-day road journey across 21 countries, traveling from Dubai to Scotland, and how the experience reshaped her understanding of human connection. Through moments on the road, she explores why travel still matters in a world dominated by technology, and how presence, shared experiences, and empathy create bonds no screen can replicate. As she navigates unfamiliar landscapes and cultures, the talk reveals a simple truth: real connection begins when we step beyond comfort and allow the unknown to change us.

10.	Soham Janjirkar	Internal speaker		The Eye of the Tempest: Deconstructing the Art of Disruption	If you're familiar with the butterfly effect, you'll know that seemingly insignificant changes can lead to massive, unpredictable differences in later outcomes. In this Ted Talk, Soham aims to challenge the conventional definition of navigating new experiences, for it is only in the eye of disruption that humanity achieves progress.
